Detailed Action

Claims Objection

Claims 7 and 16 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- (1) In claim 7, line 3, "an" should --and--.
- (2) In claim 16, line 5, "of" should read --and--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claims Rejection - 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(1) In claim 1, line 16, "said cutting" lacks clear antecedent basis. It appears "said cutting" should read --said cutting edge--.

(2) In claim 19, line 1, "said first position" and "said aperture" have no antecedent basis.

(3) In claim 20, line 3, "the blade holder" lacks antecedent basis.

Claims Rejection - 35 U.S.C. 102(b)

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Brooks (U.S. Patent No. 1,444,324).

Brooks discloses a knife (Figs.6-9) including a handle (1), a neck (13), and a removable, replaceable blade (5) of uniform thickness with an upper edge and a reduced thickness edge which tapers to form a cutting edge (see Fig.9), and the neck (13) including a securing pin or blade retainer (14) configured to hold the blade (5) in the neck (13) as claimed.

3. Claims 2, 3, 6-8 and 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by McNamara (U.S. Patent No. 2,265,775).

McNamara discloses a knife including a handle (12), a neck (11), and a removable, replaceable blade (10) of uniform thickness, the neck (11) slidably receiving the blade (10) and including a blade retainer (14) providing pressure against the blade (10), the handle (12) including an elongated groove (defined between the handle walls 19, see Fig.7) for receiving at least a portion of the neck (11), a device (24,26) for maintaining the neck (11) in at least one of an open position and a closed position, the neck (11) including a slot (define between the blade retainer 14, see Fig.5) for removing the blade (10) from the neck (11) and providing access to a portion of the blade (10) that is mated with the neck (11) as claimed.

4. Claims 2, 3, 5, 15, 16, 17, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Harwell (U.S. Patent No. 2,134,973).

Harwell discloses a knife including a handle (10), a neck (19,21), and a removable, replaceable blade of uniform thickness with an upper edge and a reduced thickness edge which tapers to form a cutting edge (see Figs.2 and 3), the neck (19,21) including a blade retainer (21d,21a,21b) configured to hold the blade in the neck (21), whereby the blade can be removed from the neck (21) and replaced without disassembly of the handle (10), the handle (10) including a ring (11) and comprising a first part (10a) and a second part (10b), a catch device (14) enable a user to pivot the neck (21) in at least one direction using solely the catch device (14), and the blade including an anchor opening (24) as claimed.

Claims Rejection - 35 U.S.C. 103(a)

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McNamara (U.S. Patent No. 2,265,775).

McNamara's knife as set forth shows all the claimed structure except for the shape of the blade (10).

However, the claimed trapezoidal shape blade is not patentably distinct over McNamara's rectangular shape blade, since it has been held that change in shape is an obvious matter of engineering design choice and not patentably advanced. In re Dailey, 149 USPQ 47, CCPA 1966.

3. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McNamara (U.S. Patent No. 2,265,775) in view of Wonderley (U.S. Patent No. 6,026,575).

McNamara's knife as set forth shows all the claimed structure except for the claimed finger stop.

Wonderley shows a knife comprising a finger stop (28/78) as a safety feature.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify McNamara by providing the knife with a finger stop for preventing a user's fingers from sliding off of the knife handle as taught by Wonderley.

4. Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McNamara (U.S. Patent No. 2,265,775) in view of Glesser (U.S. Patent No. 4,347,665).

McNamara's knife as set forth shows all the claimed structure except it lacks a catch device in the form of an opening in the neck to facilitate pivoting the neck using solely the catch device.

Glesser teaches providing an opening (34) in a pivotable element (12) to facilitate pivoting the element (12) using solely the opening (34).

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify McNamara by providing the pivotable element (i.e. the neck 11) with an opening to facilitate pivoting of the element/neck (11) as taught by Glesser.
